Educational/Professional Background

I have been a commercial disputes lawyer for over 25 years, with half my career based in London and the other half in Asia (Shanghai, Hong Kong, Singapore and Tokyo). My work has been international in nature from when I first started as a shipping lawyer before moving onto international trade & commodity disputes, insurance, infrastructure and energy cases. I have also advised on anti-bribery & corruption investigations, ESG policies and cryptocurrency cases. I have always been a strong advocate for the greater use of mediation since becoming involved as counsel in 2000 and believe that in the majority of cases, mediation (and ADR generally) represents the most efficient, cost effective and business friendly method of resolving a dispute.

BA (Pure Econ): University College Dublin (UCD), Ireland
Barrister-at-Law degree: The Honorable Society of King's Inns, Dublin, Ireland
Solicitor of England & Wales: Law Society of England & Wales
CIArb Fellow: Chartered Institute of Arbitrators

Mediation Style

Facilitative but evaluative also possible on request by the parties

Mediation Experience

I have been involved in handling cross-border mediation cases for over 20 years since my first involvement as counsel in London in 2000 and have since been involved in resolving cases using mediation and other forms of ADR in the UK, China, Singapore and Japan
