Mediation Style

In performing the role of mediator for many years, I have developed and adapted different styles, depending on which parties are before me and the nature of the matter. My method of mediation can best be described as patient and facilitative. In discharging this role, I am a proponent for actively managing rights and interests of disputants in mediation, but will not hesitate to be assertive to lead parties to a certain outcome if interests potentially converge and a meaningful settlement is imminent.

Mediation Experience

I have been mediating actively from 2011 to date.
